8. [ ] Discussed with Mr. Carl Marcy the desires of Chairman Fulbright as expressed to the DCI to have more frequent briefings from the Agency. Mr. Marcy stated that he did not believe there would be any open dates until after 4 July and that he would be in touch with us further on this.

9. [ ] Together with [ ] I met with Mr. Charles E. Johnson, Staff Director, House Committee on Post Office and Civil Service, to explain our interest in pushing for retroactivity in the six-month administrative leave amendment to the Sick and Annual Leave Act now contained in H. R. 6277 and being considered by the House Foreign Affairs Committee. Mr. Johnson felt certain that no member would object to making this provision retroactive but was going to check the matter out with Congressman W. R. Gross (R., Iowa) because he has a vital interest in H. R. 6277 and Congressman Lindley Beckworth (D., Texas), Chairman of the Subcommittee under whose jurisdiction this matter normally would fall. I left a blind memorandum detailing the nature of pending cases such a retroactive provision would help.

10. [ ] Together with [ ] I met with Mr. William Gullledge, Staff Director and Counsel, Senate Committee on Post Office and Civil Service, concerning the retroactive provision in H. R. 6277. Mr. Gullledge expressed his opinion that the retroactive provision would not of itself raise a jurisdictional problem between Senate Foreign Relations and his Subcommittee and said he could not see any objection to such a provision. Mr. Gullledge thanked us for alerting him on this matter, and we promised to drop off to him a blind memorandum early next week which would summarize the type of cases which would be covered by making this provision retroactive.
